

BANA Publication Announcement

The Nemeth Code for Mathematics and Science Notation 2022* Now Available on BANA Website!

February 6, 2024

For Immediate Release

The Braille Authority of North America is excited to announce the publication of The Nemeth Braille Code for Mathematics and Science Notation 2022! This revision has been a massive undertaking by volunteers who painstakingly scoured the entire code and created this valuable new resource for all who are involved in reading, producing, and teaching braille.

The purpose of this revision is to modernize the code and clarify the application of pre-existing as well as newly adopted rules for transcription of mathematics and science using Nemeth within the UEB code. This document replaces the 1972 edition, as well as any updates and provisional guidance previously published by BANA.

BANA is grateful to its Nemeth Committee for their diligent work in revising and updating this document. Their tenacity is sincerely appreciated.

BRF and PDF versions of this new publication are available without charge at <https://www.brailleauthority.org/nemeth-code>

Contact: Jen Goulden, Chair
Braille Authority of North America
613-552-4191
chair@brailleauthority.org